III. DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-34 are presented for examination and are pending.

In response to Applicants remarks, all previous presented rejections of the claims are hereby withdrawn as to being moot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Examiner is unclear as to what Applicant means by the claimed, “fashion”. Further clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefore, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims are directed to a non-statutory subject matter, specifically, the claims are not directed towards the final result that is “useful, tangible and concrete.

(See State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373-74 USPQ2d at 1601-02).

According to the New Guidelines of October 26, 2005, which states that “A claim limited to a machine or manufacture, which has a practical application, is statutory. In most cases a claim to a specific machine or manufacture will have a practical application. See Alappat, 33 F.3d at 1544, 31 USPQ2d at 1557)... a specific machine to produce a useful, concrete, and tangible result and State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373-74 USPQ2d at 1601-02).

(Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility <http://rs6.net/tn.jsp?t=mdmd7pbab.0.kbg76pbab.p9qiiibab.7440&p=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.uspto.gov%2Fweb%2Foffices%2Fpac%2Fdapp%2Fopla%2Fpreognotice%2Fguidelines101_20051026.pdf>)

Examiner requests Applicant to include in Applicants claimed limitations (in all the claims) the following:

What is the practical application?

What is the result?

What is final result that is concrete, useful and tangible?

Regarding Claims 12-23, the claimed, “readable medium” should read, “readable storage medium”.

Because the “practical application, result, concrete, useful and tangible” limitations are not claimed in Applicant’s claims. Examiner believes that the above listed claims are nonstatutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 7-8, 11-18 and 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sternberg et al. (U.S. Publication No. 20040133927 A1) in view of Layzell et al. (U.S. Publication No. 20040177316 A1).

As to Claim 1, Sternberg teaches receiving a web page [0587] definition having a slicing tree describing ... in the web page [0567][0260]; and rendering the web page on a display screen according to the slicing tree [0530][0253].

However, Sternberg does not expressly teach arrangement of a plurality of blocks.

Layzell teaches arrangement of a plurality of blocks (Figures 1 and 2), [0003] and [0033].

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Sternberg with the teachings of Layzell to include arrangement of a plurality of blocks with the motivation to provide for an unlimited user interaction [002] and to provide for a total minimized cost [0003].

Regarding Claim 2, Sternberg teaches ... block property data associated with one or more of the plurality of blocks [0530][0567].

Regarding Claims 3, 7-8 and 11, Sternberg teaches scaling one or more of the plurality of blocks according to a function of display screen size and the block property data [0374][0621][0265].

Regarding Claims 12-18 and 23-26, these claims are similar in scope to the rejected claims above and are therefore rejected as set forth above.
